Overview
Family & Children Services of Silicon Valley (FCS), a division of the nonprofit organization Caminar, has been strengthening families and changing lives in Santa Clara County since 1948.

Using innovative, research-based, and culturally-competent approaches, we offer individualized services tailored to the needs of each program participant. We specialize in serving underserved and vulnerable communities.

Annually, more than 19,000 children, teens, and adults living primarily in Santa Clara and San Mateo counties participate in our counseling, prevention, and support services.

To increase access to care, we bring services to dozens of community locations in Santa Clara County, including K-12 schools, foster youth group homes, juvenile hall, the courts, and family resource centers.

Caminar, founded in 1964, is a leading provider of behavioral health and supportive services in five Northern California communities: San Mateo, Santa Clara, San Francisco, Solano, and Butte.
