65 years of strengthening families and changing lives

Report to the Community
FY 2013
Dear Friends,

As we celebrated 65 years of service in 2013, we were filled with gratitude for the wonderful community support that has allowed Family & Children Services of Silicon Valley to strengthen families and change lives for more than six decades. Together we made a real difference to the lives of more than 7,000 individuals each year.

This past year was one of growth and celebration. The daily news brings us too many examples of violence in the schools, people with mental health needs not receiving the care they need, families who are struggling to cope, and youth who have lost hope. Our work brings clinical care and support to those who would otherwise live without the tools to achieve emotional health, well-being, and self-sufficiency.

I am proud to share with you our Annual Report celebrating our fiscal prudence, our program growth, and accomplishments taking place throughout Silicon Valley.

This fall we added “of Silicon Valley” to the agency’s name. This was done both to differentiate ourselves from other social service organizations with a similar name nationally and to highlight our longstanding commitment to the community we are privileged to call home.

This year, our exciting plans include the launch of intensive substance use disorder treatment services as a more affordable alternative to residential programs; the expansion of our life skills training to provide more in-depth preparation for foster youth as they prepare for independent living; and the continued expansion of our school-based counseling and family support services.

I hope to see you on May 8 at our 11th Annual Circle of Support Breakfast. The keynote speaker will be award-winning actor and devoted mental health advocate Joe Pantoliano.

Please take a moment to read about the life-changing services you make possible. Thank you for your continued support of our mission to strengthen families and change lives for a happier, healthier community for all of us.

Sincerely,

Diana Neiman
President & CEO
Mental Health Services

Through our clinical counseling and mental health programs, we provide individual and family therapy and psychiatric care for children, teens, and adults.

Our culturally-competent services are designed to prevent the onset of more complex mental health needs, while promoting stability and long-term well-being.

We are the primary provider of mental health care and support services for children and adults who are Deaf/Hard-of-Hearing and their family members.

Members of our clinical team also provide intensive support in the Mental Health Court for adults with mental health needs, in order to reduce the risk of recidivism.

“I’ve seen the transformation of my son thanks to your therapist. Healing from the trauma took time for him, and it has been the gift of a lifetime to see him open up, smile, and laugh.”
For 25 years, we have partnered with youth and young adults to support their successful transition from foster care to independence.

Through one-to-one counseling and coaching, group workshops, and leadership development opportunities, our Independent Living Program (ILP) works with youth to achieve their goals and prepare to live independently.

"Before ILP, I didn’t quite know what to do with myself. I never knew my full potential or what I could achieve," said a foster youth we served. "I thought there was no way I was going to make it through high school, no way I’d ever be able to afford college. Thanks to FCS, I get support, I have motivation and I’ve discovered I am full of potential."

Youth are most concerned about -- and seek the most assistance from us for — completing and continuing their education, finding and keeping employment, and locating safe, stable, affordable housing.
School Services

We partner with Silicon Valley elementary, middle, and high schools to bring individual and family therapy directly to students. Research has proven that children and youth are more likely to access the counseling they need when it is offered at their school and at no cost to the family.

Children and youth receive help with a variety of needs, including bullying, depression, anxiety, stress, home life issues, behavior issues, and trauma.

We also offer the Teen Families and Schools Together (FAST™) Program, an award-winning early intervention, after-school program, at schools in high-need communities with low graduation rates and high poverty rates.

Last year, 100% of teachers reported that teens participating in the FAST Program showed improvement in attitude and behavior.

“My daughter has made great progress under the care of your therapist. It is great to see her learning and applying coping strategies for her anxiety.” - Parent of an elementary school-age student
Our pioneering LGBTQ Youth Space provides counseling services and a full calendar of activities for lesbian, gay, bisexual, transgender, queer, questioning, and ally youth and young adults.

Last year, close to 700 youth and young adults participated in the program’s activities, including clinical counseling services, art and cultural workshops, leadership development training, a youth speakers bureau, social activities, and peer support groups (such as the only transgender youth support group in the county). The program also provides cultural competency trainings and presentations.

In July of 2012, we moved the Youth Space to a new location in downtown San Jose’s arts district.

“I never thought of myself as a successful person before I started coming here. I’ve always felt special since I started coming here and that I am important, that I matter.”
Family Violence & Abuse Prevention

For more than fifteen years, we have been helping men and women in Silicon Valley to end the intergenerational cycle of family violence and abuse.

Our Positive Solutions Program’s psycho-educational groups empower parents and partners to develop and maintain relationships based on mutual respect.

Men and women develop communication, problem-solving, and positive social skills, while learning about power and control, the effects of their actions on their children and others, and the importance of being accountable for one’s choices and actions.

More than 650 men and women participated last year.

Beginning in fall 2013, we are delighted to be bringing healthy relationship services to teens in Juvenile Hall.

“I have three children. This program has taught me to stop, evaluate, and then respond, rather than going straight to anger. I’m learning how to give them the kind of safe, nurturing home I didn’t have growing up.”
Substance Use Disorder Services

For more than twenty years, our Substance Use Disorder Services program has been providing outpatient drug and alcohol treatment for adults residing in Santa Clara County.

Our treatment services are designed to meet the needs of the individual while encouraging peer support and involvement in the greater community.

We strive to empower men and women with the skills, tools, and support they need to maintain their sobriety, thereby strengthening families and neighborhoods.

Family members also receive guidance and connections to resources, so that they may better understand addiction and ways to assist their loved ones.

Last year, 2,700 men and women received counseling and support in maintaining sobriety.

“Thanks to the support I received from this program, I have maintained sobriety for 7 months. I have a job now, I’m paying rent, and I am rebuilding relationships.”

Special Events

Valle Monte League’s Christmas Tree Elegance

In December 2012, our treasured partner Valle Monte League presented the 40th anniversary Christmas Tree Elegance event.

We were delighted to celebrate this milestone and to recall the tremendous difference the generosity of Valle Monte League has made in the lives of local children, youth, and adults coping with mental health needs over the decades.

10th Annual Circle of Support Breakfast

In May, the Circle of Support Breakfast Committee, co-chaired by Pooneh Fouladi and Stephanie Hewitt, presented a milestone 10th anniversary event. Close to 300 guests joined us to celebrate the philanthropic leadership of the Sobrato Family Foundation and to hear keynote speaker Andrew Bridge. Special thanks to John A. and Cynthia Fry Gunn, lead sponsors.

In accepting the award on behalf of the Sobrato Family Foundation, Lisa Sobrato Sonsini spoke of her family’s commitment to the health and well-being of the community. She also shared how she was introduced to the needs of foster youth through a workplace community service opportunity early in her career. This experience sparked her commitment to improving the lives of foster youth.

Mr. Bridge, author of Hope’s Boy: A Memoir, spoke movingly about his childhood in foster care in Los Angeles and his relationship with his biological mother, who struggled with mental illness. Mr. Bridge, an attorney, has dedicated his career to helping other children who find themselves in the child welfare system. He spoke of progress that has been made and the need for continued efforts to make the foster system more responsive to the needs of the children and youth in its care.

4th Annual Family & Children Services Charity Golf Classic

In August, more than 100 golfers joined us for a day on the greens at the Los Altos Golf & Country Club. Our volunteer committee, co-chaired by John DuBois and Alice Nuzzo, presented a fun-filled day, featuring prizes and contests on the course, a variety of “must-have” auction packages, a delicious grilled lunch and buffet dinner, and evening festivities.

Special thanks to Tournament Sponsor Sereno Group Real Estate, Cart Sponsor Opes Advisors, Hole-In-One Prize Sponsor San Jose British Motors, and all of our hole sponsors.
